JAG Physical Therapy Lends Helping Hand for

“The Greatest Game Never Played”

JAG Physical Therapy will sponsor the long-delayed rematch of two high school hockey teams whose showdown for a state championship was derailed by a measles outbreak in 1989.

JAG, New Jersey's leader in physical therapy with facilities in West Orange, Warren and soon in Hackensack, will provide trainers when alumni hockey players from Delbarton School of Morristown and St. Joseph's High School of Montvale meet to play for charity in "The Greatest Game Never Played" on April 3 at Mennen Arena in Morris Township.

“It’s a real honor to be a small part of this trip down memory lane,” explained John Gallucci, the founder of JAG. “I am sure this will really rekindle some great memories, friendships and rivalries and JAG is pleased to be a sponsor.”

In 1989, the eagerly anticipated New Jersey State Ice Hockey Championship between Delbarton and St. Joseph's was cancelled due to a measles outbreak and the teams were declared co-champions. Twenty-one years later, the teams will play for the benefit of their schools and Hockey Fights Cancer, a charitable initiative of the National Hockey League and NHL Players Association.
