Gallucci Named Medical Consultant for MLS

WEST ORANGE, NJ – John Gallucci, Jr., the owner and founder of JAG Physical Therapy, has been selected by the Major League Soccer (MLS) as the league’s Medical Consultant.

“It’s a privilege to be working with some of the greatest athletes in the world,” said Gallucci, who founded his own physical therapy center last year in West Orange. “Major League Soccer is a league with strong markets and new stadiums that is growing by leaps and bounds. I know this is going to be a great year for the MLS. I am looking forward to providing top care for these athletes.”

Gallucci is the former Head Athletic Trainer for the New York Red Bulls Major League Soccer team. He serves as the Director of the Saint Barnabas Athlete Training Center, a department of the Saint Barnabas Sports Medical Institute. The Staten Island native is a veteran of the New York/New Jersey sports scene, having worked in the athletic departments at New York University, Long Island University, and Columbia University.

He has also served as the Head Athletic Trainer for the New Jersey Storm of the National Lacrosse League, the New Jersey Pride of Major League Lacrosse, and the New York Athletic Club wrestling team.

Gallucci has been a sports medicine consultant for many local and national athletic clubs and teams, including USA Wrestling and the New Jersey Gladiators of the Arena Football League. He received a bachelor’s degree in Political Science from the College of Staten Island, a master’s degree in Athletic Training and Sports Science from Long Island University, and a second master’s degree in Physical Therapy from Dominican College. He also currently serves as a resource to the New Jersey Governor’s Council of Physical Fitness.

JAG Physical Therapy is a comprehensive orthopedic and sports physical therapy rehabilitation center with state-of the-art equipment and an experienced staff.
